
Community and Economic Development in North Carolina and Beyond Blog: What @sog_ced is reading online: October 2019

By CED News and Social Media

Article: https://ced.sog.unc.edu/what-sog_ced-is-reading-online-october-2019/

This entry was posted on October 31, 2019 and is filed under CED News & Social Media

The following are articles and reports on the web that the Community and Economic Development Program at the UNC School of Government shared through social media over the past month. Follow us on twitter or facebook to receive regular updates.

Items of interest related to CED in North Carolina:

International Economic Development training course will focus on workforce development strategies in November in Chapel Hill: <http://bit.ly/33aeuD2>

Other CED items:

Brutally honest Opportunity Zone article written for investors:bit.ly/2AJkwOj . “Though there are 8,764 opportunity zones, most won’t see a dime. Deals must make money, and most neighborhoods can’t support rents that justify new construction.”

USFS research on heirs’ property (property passed down to multiple family members who own property jointly) and its connection to poverty across the South. bit.ly/2nPEXpZ

Good advice on how to focus on needed revitalization when someone raises the issue of gentrification even though it isn’t applicable to the neighborhood. Summarizes practical tips from session at Center for Community Progress’ vacant and abandoned housing conference: <http://bit.ly/31Tj8n9>

DFI in the News:

Tar Heel Bus Tour visits Kannapolis, NC to learn about DFI’s work with the City to redevelop its entire downtown—an historic effort. <http://bit.ly/34jsJWc>

Last month’s edition of “What @sog_ced is reading...”https://ced.sog.unc.edu/what-sog_ced-is-reading-online-september-2019/

Compiled by Marcia Perritt